Ireland

Ireland

Clyde & Co Ireland's office in the heart of Dublin provides Irish and English law insurance and reinsurance advice on both contentious and non-contentious matters to insurers and commercial entities with exposure to the Irish market, as well as to reinsurers based in Ireland that have an international focus.

The Dublin practice provides insurers, reinsurers and commercial entities with access to Irish law contentious and regulatory advice, together with representation before the Irish courts, as part of a seamless service to our global clients.

Experience

Clyde & Co Ireland's Irish law expertise extends across a broad range of (re)-insurance and commercial business lines. This includes:

- Extensive experience of Irish law professional indemnity coverage and defence issues (including regulatory issues) in the solicitor, accountant, architect, engineering and surveyor sectors
 - Irish law Directors and Officers coverage and defence representation relating to US cryptocurrency regulatory investigations of entities resident in Ireland
 - Product liability coverage and defence representation in Ireland relating to motor vehicles, construction materials, industrial machinery and agricultural goods
 - Advising on coverage and subrogation issues arising out of energy-related property and BI insurance in the Irish windfarm and gas fired electrical production sectors, including transmission connection agreements and associated maximum export capacity bonds
 - Extensively advising on first party property damage and BI, and third party Employers Liability and Public Liability, insurance coverage and defence issues (including fatality and nervous shock claims) in the Irish industrial, recycling, hotel, public house, retail, leisure and forestry sectors
 - Providing coverage advice and representation to various equine/bloodstock insurers, including on mortality provisions, fertility and disability
 - Defending Irish airline operators against allegations by international carriers of substantial damage to wide-body aircraft during flight operations
 - Providing policy wording and insurance regulatory advice to insurer clients and foreign insurance supervisors with exposures to Ireland-based insurance subsidiaries
 - Acting as appointed cyber coverage counsel to Irish public sector entity, and as Clyde & Co's breach response counsel for Irish cyber attack issues
